From first contact to care - with a clear next step

A staff or member benefit is only useful if people can actually navigate it. Our model gives each enquiry an active pathway rather than another list of providers.

The partnership is designed to make access easier without turning the organisation into part of the clinical relationship.

FOR STAFF & MEMBERS

Their care remains their care

Direct access

People can contact Therapy Near Me directly rather than discussing personal details through the organisation.

Confidential care

Clinical information stays within the care relationship, subject to consent, privacy obligations and applicable law.

Choice and continuity

If needs, modality or clinician fit changes, our team helps keep the pathway moving.

FOR THE ORGANISATION

One relationship to manage

Dedicated liaison

A named contact or small team can become the operational point of contact for the partnership.

Tailored access process

We can align referral or access instructions and documentation with the way your organisation communicates with its people.

Accessible support

24/7 administrative accessibility and after-hours service capability help make the pathway easier to use.

Value beyond individual appointments

Therapy Near Me already collaborates with universities on resource development and distribution. The same model can support staff and member partnerships.

Free resources

Patient, family and practical mental health guides for your community.

Education

Webinars, referral guides and professional resources where there is a clear need.

Co-development

Joint resources that combine your subject expertise with our clinical and research capability.
